MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Training

SUBJECT : Weekly Report #22: Defense Intelligence School (DIS)
2 August - 13 August 1965

1. Scheduled Agency speakers for the past week should have numbered one, but we had two. Per plan, [REDACTED] talked to the Civilian Analyst Course about the Source Register system. As a first effort, Don's presentation was adequate. He has already identified some elements of Jim [REDACTED] old notes which should be modified before Don's next presentation on the same topic.

[REDACTED] was the other CIA guest speaker. He was the last-minute replacement whom we arranged for after a DIA speaker chickened out a week in advance on a responsibility assigned to him a month ago. The DIA "speaker" even sat in on the CIA presentation. Dave deserves three-fold praise for agreeing to do it, for doing it well, and for exhibiting the best diction of any Agency speaker to date. He covered a two-hour discussion and practical exercise on Intelligence Writing.

2. A series of DIS course briefings are in progress for the new Deputy Commandant, [REDACTED]

3. Thus far I have heard three differing briefings on the 34-week Defense Intelligence Course. There seems to be considerable indecision as to what it purports to cover. The uncertainty on purpose and scope apparently stems from two recognitions for change. There is the problem of changing to relate to the newly established Advanced Intelligence and Civilian Analyst Courses. There is the second problem of changing to satisfy Army and Air Force participation, yet placating the Navy that no significant change has occurred in the course initiated by the Navy many years ago.
